More Gold Braid Than Meets the Eye

Hibbard, Flag Officer Pacific Coast; Rear Admiral Victor G. Brodeur (retired), Vice Admiral H. E. Reid (retired), Vice Admiral E. Rollo Mainquy, Chief of Naval Staff, and Rear Admiral W. B. Creery (retired).

Red Intervention Doomed

Chiang Confident China Will Arise

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek said Thursday his armies could whip Russia if it intervened in any Nationalist invasion of Red China because the Chinese people would rise and fight the Soviets.

In an exclusive interview, the generalissimo predicted the same fate would await Russia as overtook Japan—a whole people rising in wrath against the foreigners.

It was noted that N. S. Krushchev, secretary of the central committee of the Soviet Communist party, was reported to have given assurances in Peking last week that Russia would support plans for an attack on Formosa.

WHAT THEN?

"If you counter-attack the mainland and Russia intervenes, what then?" the generalissimo was asked.

"The Soviet Union," Chiang replied, "began 30 years ago the process of training and equipping the Chinese Communists so that they could carry out, by proxy, Russia's conquest of the mainland."

"Today, the mainland might appear to some people to be under the Chinese Communist party but it actually is under control of Soviet Russia."

Chiang then recalled that the Japanese militarists before 1937 concealed themselves behind the cloak of the northern Chinese warlords in encroaching on Chinese soil. When the Japanese came out in the open in 1937, the people rose and fought the invaders.

HIDING CONTROL

"The Soviet Union," Chiang continued, "is still hiding behind the scenes its control of the Chinese Communist party and by these tactics has deceived many people, both in the mainland and in other countries."

"If the Soviet Union in the future comes out into the open, mobilizes troops, and fights without Nationalist army on the mainland, the whole Chinese people will rise up and fight against the Russians. Russia could never conquer us in a fight on Chinese soil."

Chiang was confident his forces would triumph once they attacked the mainland.

Signed by Metropolitan

Marian Anderson Gets Opera Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera said Thursday Marian Anderson, famous American Negro contralto, has been signed to sing in an opera this winter, first Negro singer ever to appear with a Metropolitan cast.

Rudolf Bing, Metropolitan general manager, said Miss Anderson will sing the role of "Ulrica," a Negro fortune teller, in Verdi's "The Masked Ball" early in January.

"I'm very happy," said Miss Anderson. "It will be her first operatic role here or anywhere."

Miss Anderson, whose voice has been acclaimed throughout

North America and Europe, once was a cause celebre when the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1939 refused her the use of Constitution Hall on grounds that "all dates were taken."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt resigned from the DAR as a result. Subsequently Miss Anderson sang at an open-air Easter concert at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., to an audience of 75,000.

Reuther Offers To Join Strike-Aversion Parley

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The top man in United Automobile Workers Union (CIO-CCL) Thursday offered to join talks with the Ford Motor Company of Canada, under the guidance of Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley, to try to avert a strike, set for 10 p.m. EST Sunday at the large Ford Windsor plant.

Walter P. Reuther, international president of the UAW, said he would join the talks if Rhys M. Sale, Ford president, would also take part.

Ford officials made no comment on Mr. Reuther's proposal.

But they said Wednesday the company's regular negotiating team, headed by Wallace H. Clark, vice president, industrial relations, would attend last-minute meetings today.

Mr. Reuther had offered to enter the picture earlier this week, on the invitation of Mayor Arthur Reaume. At that time, Mr. Sale refused to meet with him.

Labor Minister Daley will step into the tense labor dispute with Louis Fine, chief conciliations officer, to try to bring a peaceful settlement to the nine-month-old dispute.

Comic Book Sirens Get Dior Treatment

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—The new "czar" of the comic book industry said Thursday that women characters in the books will "get the Dior treatment" to flatten their bosoms under the code he is drawing up.

Former New York Magistrate Charles F. Murphy, who took over as the "Judge Landis" of the comic magazine industry less than a week ago, said he hopes to have a code for the guidance of the publishers by October 15.

Chest Has 700 Now

Volunteers Needed For Home Canvass

A call for canvassers for the residential drive which starts Monday was issued last night as the Greater Victoria Community Chest campaign hit $22,180 in its fourth day.

Goal of the 19-day drive is $203,000. Officials said 700 persons have volunteered their services for the residential drive, biggest and most complicated of the campaign sections, and 100 more are needed in Victoria West, Victoria North and the central and northern parts of the Saanich Peninsula.

Anyone can be a canvasser and volunteers are requested to telephone 2-3143 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. today or Tuesday, or between 9 a.m. and noon Saturday.

As the total of donations went to $22,180, Chest officials said they were "very optimistic."

MORE PLEDGES

They pointed out that more time and care is being given to pledge canvassing than before and said this method of giving is continuing to grow in popularity.

Early returns from the industrial-commercial canvass, under way since Monday, show that participation through payroll deduction is also increasing satisfactorily, they said.

An industrial-commercial canvasser presented proof yesterday that those who are helped by the Community Chest help the campaign themselves.

The canvasser was visiting businesses in a downtown block when he entered a recreation centre for elderly people, thinking it, too, was a business office. Four gentlemen at the centre, which receives a small amount from the Chest each year, donated $8 to the campaign before the canvasser could go on his way.

Widow Found Injured

Injured in a fall in her home, an 82-year-old Oak Bay widow is believed to have lain unattended for two days before taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital by police last night.

She was Mrs. J. Miller, 1049 Monterey.

The old woman, who lives alone, was found lying on the floor by a doctor and Oak Bay police who were summoned after a neighbor became apprehensive.

She was reported in good condition last night by hospital authorities.

Admirals Inspect Cadets

It was a proud day for 162 cadets of HMCS Venture yesterday when five admirals, including Vice-Admiral E. Rollo Mainquy, chief of naval staff, inspected divisions at the navy's new officer training centre.

Other admirals attending the official opening of HMCS Venture were Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Flag Officer Pacific Coast; Vice-Admiral H. E. Reid (retired); Rear Admiral V. G. Brodeur (retired); and Rear Admiral W. B. Creery (retired).

After only three weeks of training the cadets performed smartly on the parade square and were a credit to Vice skipper, Captain R. P. Welland and his officers and instructors.

MUST HAVE VALUE

But he warned them that the production of an officer "is tremendously expensive nowadays." He said: "We must have value for our money. If a cadet can't make the grade he won't stay here."

Cadet Gilmour Morrison, 18, of Amherstburg, Ontario, thought he was going to miss yesterday's parade, but he was one of the proudest cadets when Admiral Mainquy stopped to say a few words to him.

On his third parade Cadet Morrison fell and broke his jaw. He was released from navy hospital yesterday morning but didn't have a uniform. His division mates scraped up a uniform from their extra clothing and he was able to stand on the parade square for divisions.

SPECIAL PRIDE

Admiral Hibbard had a special pride in Venture when he accompanied the navy chief on the inspection. His 19-year-old son, Dick, was one of the cadets, but there are no special favors for an admiral's son.

Young Hibbard has moved out of the Admiral's House at the Dockyard and into the cadet quarters at Venture as just another of the 162 cadets.

Adenauer Wins Full Support

Germany Supports Alliance With West

Bid by Molotov Quickly Rejected

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has won overwhelming parliamentary support for his policy of bringing a rearmend West Germany into the Western alliance.

In an uncounted show of hands the majority of the Bundestag Lower House Thursday night accepted the London agreement to allow Bonn to raise 12 divisions and an air force as members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It amounted to a vote of confidence for Adenauer's policy and was a swift answer to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's latest bid, made in East Berlin Wednesday night, to block West German rearmament by dangling new hopes of German reunification.

The West German Socialists, who have 151 seats in the 487-member chamber, voted against the motion.

A Socialist counter-motion calling for another try for a settlement with the Russians before committing the western half of Germany to the Allied alliance was shunted aside into the oblivion of committee study.

The vote came after more than 11 hours of debate on the chancellor's report on the results of the London conference.

Political leaders in France and Britain also refused to be diverted from their plans for Germany by Molotov's bid for another four-power conference.

His offer to talk over ways to reunify divided Germany through free elections and withdraw all occupation troops was received with considerable skepticism. Molotov spoke during a surprise visit to East Berlin, ostensibly to join ceremonies marking the fifth anniversary of the East German state.

Foreign Secretary Eden spurned the Soviet proposal, saying that the Russian aim was still Communist domination of Germany. He told the Conservative conference at Blackpool:

"They, the Russians, have made every effort to draw Germany to their side and to prevent us from drawing Germany to ours. They have created German armed forces in their sector long ago. They have consistently refused to agree to Germany being reunited, except on terms which would result in the Communist minority being given the power to subvert the whole state."

Adenauer said German unity was only part of the great field of tension.

In the London conference he had received assurance of Western support for the achievement of unity—a matter he said was always near his heart.

Resignation, Not Enthusiasm

French Approval Likely for Pact

PARIS (Reuters)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France seemed assured of the French Assembly's approval of his policy to rearm West Germany Thursday night.

He outlined to the assembly the plan to bring a sovereign, independent Germany into the Brussels and Atlantic defense pacts. Afterwards, political observers predicted the House would back him to the hilt in the showdown vote on the rearmament issue, due within the next 24 hours.

RESIGNATION

The mood of the assembly was one of resignation rather than enthusiasm as Mendes-France recalled the assembly's rejection of the original European Defense Community six weeks ago and traced the negotiations in London which produced the new formula for rearming Germany.

The majority of deputies outside the Communist party seemed convinced they must ratify the London agreement to prevent France from being squeezed out of the Western defense network.

TOOK NO CREDIT

Opening the debate, which will end in rejection or approval of the plan to rearm West Germany, Mendes-France avoided taking any credit for the London settlement but applauded Britain for deciding to commit troops to the Continent for the remainder of this century.

He said the chief reason EDC failed was that it contained too large a dose of supra-nationalism, and that Britain was not a member.

One of the major results of the London conference, he said, was that France obtained a right to veto any increase in West German forces above the initial level agreed to, as well as a new safeguard against the revival of German militarism.

Mendes-France said that having obtained satisfactory guarantees and assurances about German rearmament, there is no further objection from the French point of view to Germany's entry into NATO.

From his observations he reported radiation effect of atomic bombs much over-rated.

Brig. R. C. Moncel, deputy chief of general staff of the army, also arrived in Victoria last night to attend the opening of the new laboratory. Air Commodore W. A. Orr, commander of 12 Area Air Defense Group, will represent the RCAF at the ceremony. Also in attendance will be Lieut.-Col. D. A. Kellough, acting commander of the B.C. Area of the army.

The industry publication reported that Russia has developed reconnaissance aircraft "capable of flying over Alaska and even reaching San Francisco."

"Some intelligence reports suggest that they may have already done so," the magazine said.

Solandt To Open New Lab

Canada's top military scientist and chairman of the Defense Research Board, Dr. O. M. Solandt, arrived in Victoria last night.

He will officiate at 2:30 p.m. today at the opening of the new Pacific Naval Laboratory building, Esquimalt, after which he will address cadets at Royal Roads.

Dr. Solandt has been chairman of the DRB since it was organized in 1946 and is scientific member of the chiefs of staff committee.

In 1945 he was sent to evaluate the effects of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In 1952 he observed the British atomic tests in Australia.

From his observations he reported radiation effect of atomic bombs much over-rated.

Brig. R. C. Moncel, deputy chief of general staff of the army, also arrived in Victoria last night to attend the opening of the new laboratory. Air Commodore W. A. Soviet Diesel Planes May Be Scouting U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—American Aviation Magazine said Thursday Russian diesel-engined airplanes may be flying over the United States to pinpoint targets for future A-bomb attacks.

The industry publication reported that Russia has developed reconnaissance aircraft "capable of flying over Alaska and even reaching San Francisco."

"Some intelligence reports suggest that they may have already done so," the magazine said.

A staff member added, in reply to a question, that presumably Russia would turn to Diesel aircraft engines, as the Germans did in the Second World War, to achieve the long range which the United States has obtained through aerial refueling and the use of a big aircraft such as the B-36.

Citing "sources in touch with developments inside the Soviet Union," the American Aviation article said the reconnaissance craft are modified bombers—the Tupolev TU-4, which is a Russian copy of the American B-29, and the Miassichchev MI-13RD.

The magazine said the Russian air force now has five long-range reconnaissance squadrons, each with 10 planes, including two refueling tankers.

Three Long-Sought Links Ready in Three Years

Leaders of Fight for Roads Beam at News of Projects

Victoria men who helped lead the long fight for important new roads on Vancouver Island beamed yesterday over the news that three of the roads will likely be completed in three years, with the fourth coming as soon as possible.

Major H. C. Holmes, long-time champion of road expansion on the Island, called the road plan a "good business proposition and a shrewd government move which will mean a tremendous step forward in Island development."

Roads linking Jordan River and Port Renfrew, and Alberni and Tofino-Ucluelet will be completed within two years by the government and three logging companies. Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers said Wednesday.

However, British Columbia Forest Products Ltd., which plans to start construction of a pulp mill, must first win approval of a forest management license.

Another road built by the government, the Elk River

Timber Co. and the Tahsis Company will link Campbell River and Metchosin in two years, but a road connecting Port Renfrew to either Shawnigan Lake or Cowichan Lake will take longer to plan and construct.

Major Holmes said the roads will mean a "very rapid and great growth for Vancouver Island and great profit for the provincial economy—not a subsidy plan but a good business proposition."

He was surprised at news of the Campbell River-Metchosin road, saying Island Chambers of Commerce had not asked for it repeatedly, because "we didn't think we would get it."

He added he has found similar logging roads to have good grades and good width.

W. C. Meares, chairman of the Victoria chamber's roads committee, praised the government for "getting the most possible" and "showing a lot of leadership."

road through Cowichan Lake or Shawnigan Lake would cause many tourists to remain in the southern island for longer than at present.

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager of the Victoria chamber, declared the road plan would mean "very rapid growth" for Duncan, Shawnigan Lake and similar centres.

He pointed out that opening of the Tofino road will give Victoria salesmen a "big edge" over their counterparts from Vancouver, since the local men will be able to visit the West Coast communities more easily.

Major Holmes said, "We'll go after airports next—the first one somewhere in Greater Victoria, but we haven't any plans yet."

Construction of the roads was hailed by most civic authorities as "a step in the right direction."

At the same time, officials explained that it was difficult if not impossible to comment on the forest management

Chest Has 700 Now

Volunteers Needed For Home Canvass

A call for canvassers for the residential drive which starts Monday was issued last night as the Greater Victoria Community Chest campaign hit $22,180 in its fourth day.

Goal of the 19-day drive is $200,000.

Officials said 700 persons have volunteered their services for the residential drive, biggest and most complicated of the campaign sections, and 100 more are needed in Victoria West, Victoria North and the central and northern parts of the Saanich Peninsula.

Anyone can be a canvasser and volunteers are requested to telephone 2-3143 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. today or Tuesday, or between 9 a.m. and noon Saturday.

More Selling Urged

HALIFAX (CP)—Canadian business men, apprehensive about chances of selling their goods in other countries, were advised Thursday to do a more aggressive job of salesmanship.

The advice came in a panel discussion on foreign trade at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Brig. J. A. Roberts, Toronto marketing consultant, said that in a recent trip to Europe he had met no Canadian representatives seeking to replace lost business, despite the fact there were growing markets waiting to be cultivated.

Bad Weather Thins Audience

Enthusiastic Performance Brightens Homey Comedy

Miserable weather cut down last night's audience at the opening performance of "January Thaw", by St. Luke's Players.

The group chose a homey type of comedy by William Roos for the first presentation of its fifth season.

An enthusiastic performance was given by the entire cast, in a play which relied on fairly broad humor for most of its laughs.

Characterizations, in which "January Thaw" abounds, were played with better interpretation than usually found in smaller groups.

Lead roles were capably filled by Peter Howell and Blossom Johnston.

Others in the cast included Ione Jones, Judy Nicholson, May Brooker, Evonne Murray, Roy Duggan, Hudson Jones, Olive Garrod, Jack Ekehurst, Charles Gibson, Roy Blevin and Clifford Clark.

The play was directed by Flora Nicholson.

"January Thaw" will be repeated tonight and Saturday in St. Luke's Hall, Cedar Hill Cross Road. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Traffic Danger To Children Hit

VIEW ROYAL—Problem of speeding traffic endangering school children on Helmcken and Jedburgh Roads was brought under fire at the regular monthly meeting of View Royal PTA this week.

"Something must be done about it before a child is killed," said Mrs. J. Pennington, PTA president.

Members decided to tackle the problem as their project for the year. They plan to follow it through until something is done to improve present inadequate safety conditions.

Jedburgh and Helmcken are the first and second turnoffs for inbound traffic on the new 1st Highway.

HEAVY TRAFFIC—Between 4:15 and 4:45 p.m. daily the workmen from the Royal Roads area and outlying mills take Jedburgh to out through to the new highway. They are probably hungry and in a hurry to get home," explained Mrs. E. L. McConnan, 11 Jedburgh. "Sunday traffic is nearly bumper to bumper."

It was felt that the greatly increased volume of traffic was a temporary situation that would be alleviated when the new highway is extended.

A round table discussion with public works engineers and RCMP is on the agenda for the next meeting of the PTA.

STOMACH ACTING UP—Don't let indigestion, heartburn or other stomach upsets make you afraid to eat a good meal. Just take a Digipal before eating. Quick-acting Digipal dissolves pleasantly in the mouth—relieves over-acidity. Individually wrapped. Easy to carry in purse or pocket. 25¢.

Publisher Emphasizes Readers' Partnership

VANCOUVER (CP)—One of the greatest challenges facing newspapers today is to make clear that subscribers and newspapers are partners in the common objective of building a progressive, healthy society, Stuart Keate, publisher of The Victoria Daily Times, said here Thursday.

Speaking before the Vancouver Kiwanis Club on National Newspaper Week, Mr. Keate said, "More people are reading newspapers than ever before, despite the onslaughts of TV."

"Canadian daily newspapers today have achieved new circulation peaks, with a daily average of 3,700,000 subscribers—up 7.2 per cent."

Mr. Keate said the publishing business has "just about the worst public relations of any large industry I know. I think we have a pretty good story to tell, but we have done a great job of concealing it from the public."

"There appears to me to be today a great void between subscriber and publisher. Our communications seem to have broken down."

"And surely one of the great challenges facing newspapers today is to bridge this chasm—to make clear that we are partners in the community, with the common objective of building a progressive, healthy society."

"Many people today, including many of our front-ranking citizens, think that a newspaper's job is, on the one hand, to suppress the news, and on the other to build up dubious enterprises into something more noble than they really are."

"In Victoria today my own newspaper is banned from the rarefied atmosphere of the provincial cabinet because we refrain from rejoicing in the unique precepts of the new government."

"Our reporters are banned from committee meetings at City Hall, although these are open to plumbers and carpenters bidding for public payroll jobs. We are not allowed to see correspondence written by citizens, until it has been screened—which is to say censored—by the mayor."

"Beware the public official who closes doors on reporters—because what he is doing, in actual fact, is slamming his door in the faces of the people who put him in office."

"As long as the reporter is free to ask questions, you are free. As long as his eyes are open, so are yours."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN MYSTERY MUFFIN CONTEST

IT'S EASY! FUN!

JUST NAME THE MYSTERY MUFFIN!

Wait'll the family tastes 'em—they'll help you win! Try these delicious muffins (easy recipe is given below), then think up a good name for them! Some examples of names are "Upside Down Muffins" or "Prune Muffins" or "Golden Fruit Muffins." But you can think of better. Submit lots of entries! Enter today.

MYSTERY MUFFIN RECIPE!

1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup milk	2 1/2 tps. baking powder
1 egg	1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup soft shortening	1/4 cup sugar
2 tps. melted butter or margarine	1/2 cup brown sugar
	12 cooked prunes or apricots, pitted

Combine All-Bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. In each of 12 greased muffin cups, place 1/2 tsp. melted butter, 1 tsp. brown sugar and 1 pitted prune or apricot with the cut side down. Fill each cup 3/4 full with batter. Bake in mod. hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Serve immediately, upside-down. Yields 12 muffins, about 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

EASY RULES

- Print or write clearly on one side of a sheet of paper your suggested name for Kellogg's Mystery Muffin. Include your name and address. List one name on each entry. Each entry must be the work of contestant and submitted under his name.
- Send as many entries as you wish, but each must be accompanied by a box top from any package of Kellogg's All-Bran. Mail to Kellogg's Mystery Muffin Contest, Box 1300, Toronto, Ontario. Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, November 21, 1954, and received by November 30.
- Entries will be judged on originality, uniqueness, aptness of thought. Judges' decisions final. Duplicate prizes in case of ties. Entries become the property of the Kellogg Company; names will be returned.
- Contest open to residents of Canada, except families or employees of the Kellogg Company, participating companies and their advertising agencies.
- List of winners available about 60 days after contest closes to those sending stamped, self-addressed envelopes.
- Contest subject to applicable laws. You accept those rules when you enter the contest.

Meeting To Choose New Health Officer

A meeting of the Union Board of Health is expected next week to select a new medical health officer for the Victoria-Equinox area.

The post has been vacant since the end of July when Dr. J. L. Gayton resigned to become assistant medical health officer for the city of Vancouver.

Activities of the city health department have been administered in the meantime by Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, assistant medical health officer.

Aid Mrs. Margaret Christie, chairman of the health board, said yesterday that five or six applications had been received for the vacant health post. The job was advertised in the capital of every province in Canada during the summer.

The applications will be studied and a successor to Dr. Gayton named as soon as a meeting of the board can be arranged. Mrs. Christie said it had been impossible during the past two months to get all members of the board together for the important selection.

The board will have the benefit of advice from officials of the provincial health department in choosing the new officer.

Two Free Rides Coming Up For Girl Who Paid Double

Little girls learn housewifely economics early.

Here's the case of a six-year-old reported by a bus passenger: When she entered the bus, with a little boy in tow even smaller than herself, she bought 25 cents worth of tickets. The bus driver nipped one off the string and put it in the fare box.

The little girl thanked him courteously and added a second fare.

"When she was alighting from the bus the operator told her it was not necessary to pay for the small boy."

"So you can have a free ride tomorrow," the driver smiled.

"Thank you," said the youngster. "The fact is I put in two fares yesterday, too."

She gets both extra rides.

Daily Astrology ————— BY RITA DEL MAR

When you hold a hand that is not clearly strong enough to make more than one bid, your choice of what that bid should be is very important. With a hand that can be bid several times, even a second-best first choice can be corrected—at least partially—by your later bids, but that isn't true with the bid once, or bid one-and-a-half hands.

North's two-diamond bid normally promises about 10 points as a minimum. North didn't have that many. (Sometimes a weak one-suit may be bid with less when you are planning to sign off by a simple rebid of the suit at your next turn, but North didn't have that kind of hand either.)

Instead of bidding two diamonds, North should have chosen the non-forcing raise of two spades. Then, if he had an appropriate opportunity later he could show the diamonds without conveying the impression of any great strength; in fact, having chosen a mere single raise for his first bid, he could not mislead his partner by a later rebid.

North might still have suffered no less from his bid if he had brazened it out when his partner doubled five clubs. But, having lied on his first bid, he felt that the opponents might make that contract and he could not take the risk of leaving it in. Actually, he should have done so, since the chance of making five diamonds or five spades was extremely unlikely.)

Five clubs doubled would have been set 300 points. Five diamonds not doubled went down two tricks when East shifted to a heart. The total swing—100 points—isn't as serious in points as it was in the blow it struck at partnership confidence. Bids like this are so obviously wrong, yet they are so often chosen even by pretty good players that they are one of the most costly errors in the game.

VITAL PASSAGE

The Panama canal has a mission of its own.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1934

Today's quotation: "Women distrust men too much in general, and too little in particular." —Comptonson

Friday for everyone: Daytime: Attend to routine and ordinary matters; protect your interests, maintain accord in your surroundings. Evening: See parents or higher-ups. Take care of wardrobe, health interests.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Eude fatiguing persons in the daytime; keep your own company. Evening: Catch up with rest.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Steer a careful course; curtail credit dealings. Relax a bit in the evening.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Put small dependence in others. Be content to play a lone hand. Be conscientious, dutiful in evening.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Daytime: Conserve energy and money. Evening: Reckless information routes.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Don't be thrown off course by words or actions of others. Evening: Set elders.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Perform your duties and serve others in an impersonal fashion; avert disharmony. Evening: Set friends.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Daytime: Treat dear ones pangs with tolerance. Cautious, health discretion in evening.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Rein in your feelings if the day's pattern of events is not out to your order. Evening: Take no chances.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Use tact in what you say or write; attend to minor duties today. Be at home in evening.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn)—Daytime: Give possessions or budgetary considerations due care. Evening: Use careful judgment.

—Give ground when views of others are just. Evening: shun extravagance, over optimism.

Iron Curtain Has Silver Lining For Busy Smugglers in Austria

VIENNA — The iron curtain has a silver lining—for Austrian smugglers—and with the help of the U.S.

Austria, with six international frontiers, is a smuggler's eldorado. It has the largest turnover of contraband goods in transit anywhere on the continent of Europe.

The Austrian smuggling fraternity proudly boasts that no other country has so much as a $3,000,000 deal in contraband from Spain, a consignment of previous contraband for the Russian war industries, or just a spare part from Western Germany for somebody's sewing machine—all can be, and are, turned over for a huge profit.

Practically everything is in short supply in the Soviet people's paradise and in Marshal Tito's equally Communist Yugoslavia. Only the professionals know how to get the contraband across the minefields and past frontier guards.

Shopping with Sally

Laden Tables At Thanksgiving

Shopping with Sally is a new feature in the Daily Colonist, designed to help you plan your Thanksgiving shopping. Sally is a young girl who will be visiting you in the pages of this column. She will tell you what to buy, when to buy it, and how to buy it. She will also tell you about the latest fashions, the best places to shop, and the best ways to save money. Sally is a girl who loves to shop, and she loves to help you. So, come along with Sally on her shopping spree, and you will be sure to find everything you need for Thanksgiving.

Along with Turkey

Now, for the turkey. The turkey is the centerpiece of the Thanksgiving meal. It is a bird that is raised in a special way, and it is a bird that is delicious. There are many different breeds of turkeys, and each breed has its own special flavor. When you are shopping for a turkey, look for one that is fresh, and that has a good flavor. You will want to buy a turkey that is large enough to feed everyone at your table. A good rule of thumb is to buy a turkey that weighs about 12 to 14 pounds for each person.

Dessert Choice

If you are looking for a dessert that is both delicious and easy to make, look no further than the pumpkin pie. Pumpkin pie is a classic Thanksgiving dessert, and it is a dessert that is loved by everyone. It is a pie that is made with pumpkin, sugar, and spices, and it is a pie that is baked in a pie crust. There are many different recipes for pumpkin pie, and each recipe has its own special flavor. When you are shopping for ingredients for your pumpkin pie, look for the best quality ingredients you can find. You will want to buy a good quality pumpkin, and you will want to buy a good quality pie crust.

Viscount Swinton

Viscount Swinton Says:

Armed Germany World's Salvation

Rearmament of Western Germany will prove the "salvation" of the world, in the opinion of Viscount Swinton, British secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, who is visiting Victoria.

Viscount Swinton said that the rearmament of Western Germany is essential for the world's peace and stability.

Duncan May Change Day For Closing

DUNCAN, A petition will be presented by the Duncan Citizens' Association for a possible change in the weekly half holiday.

A petition for a change in the weekly half holiday in Duncan, B.C., will be presented to the Board of Commissioners at their meeting on Monday, Oct. 5. The petition is signed by the Duncan Citizens' Association and is headed by Mrs. J. A. Hanna.

The petition states that the present half holiday on Monday is inconvenient for many of the citizens of Duncan, particularly those who are employed in the hotel and restaurant industry. It is suggested that the half holiday be changed to Tuesday.

The Board of Commissioners will consider the petition at their meeting on Monday. A decision will be made by a majority vote.

Salmon Angling, Trolling Closed

PORT ALBERNI Closure of angling and trolling for salmon in Alberni Inlet above Polk's Point and in the third waters of Souths has been announced by Fisheries Inspector R. G. McInnes.

The closure is in effect until further notice. It is due to a shortage of fish in the area.

LADYSMITH — More than 100 delegates from Victoria north to Port Alberni and Campbell River will meet here October 30 for the District Association of the Reliance Association.

Mrs. Ina McInnes, Victoria, Warden of the Reliance Association, will preside at the meeting.

NANAIMO — The Nanaimo Board of Commissioners will meet on Monday, Oct. 5, at 10 a.m. in the Board Room. The agenda includes the report of the Board of Health and the report of the Board of Education.

Garage Pact Ends Strike-Lockout

PORT ALBERNI The month-long strike and lock-out of five to six hundred garage mechanics in the Alberni area has ended with the signing of an agreement.

The agreement was signed between the mechanics and the employers. It provides for a 10% wage increase and a 5% cost-of-living allowance.

The strike was called by the Vancouver Island Mechanics' Association. It was the first time in the history of the association that a strike had been called.

The strike was called because of a dispute over wages and working conditions. The mechanics felt that their wages were too low and that their working conditions were poor.

The strike was called on October 1. It lasted for a month. During the strike, many garages were closed and many mechanics were unemployed.

The agreement was signed on October 31. It provides for a 10% wage increase and a 5% cost-of-living allowance.

NEWS REVIEW

By Erith M. Smith

(From AP, CP, Reuters, UP)

Business men and government leaders of Alberta, locating their province at the apex of the Canadian freight-rate structure, Thursday asked that the railways "discriminatory" agreed changes be abolished or included under the one and one-third rule for east-west rail shipments.

Earlier the royal commission on agreed changes, headed by Mr. Justice W. E. A. Turgeon, heard a brief by the Alberta government which said the railways' technique of agreed freight rates was "completely unjustifiable" in the province unless subjected to that one and one-third rule.

Meeting party leaders for long, Premier Patterson demanded Thursday to step up his personal campaign for a Department of Transport to bring at least one more major provincial address than he had planned.

An Ottawa press conference Thursday said the federal government had agreed to a $100-million loan to the province of Ontario to help it build a new power plant. The loan would be repaid over 25 years at 4 per cent interest.

Viet Nam has appealed to Canada and other Western powers to help fight Communism by repatriating the ruins caused by two wars. For instance, said Tran Van Chung, leader of the Cu Chingho Plan delegation in Ottawa, his country must resettle 350,000 refugees fleeing the Communists in the north.

Autonomous Hong Kong has been granted the right to elect its own legislative council. The British government has agreed to a new constitution for the colony.

Full-Scale Meeting on CD May Follow Local Shakeup

Possibility of a meeting of provincial, federal and Greater Victoria civil defense officers appeared strengthened yesterday as Ottawa sought news of the local defense shakeup.

Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canada's civil defense chief, telephoned provincial headquarters for information on the situation when he learned of the local staff releases.

NO COMMENT

Provincial authorities have not commented on the situation which arose Wednesday. The control board voted to release all but one of the six-member administrative staff and decided to ask B.C. authorities to arrange a round-table meeting of federal, provincial and municipal representatives to discuss the future of civil defense in this area.

Approach to the province for the meeting was left to the mayor, it was learned.

NOTICE GIVEN

Victoria defense co-ordinator L. G. Hatcher received his notice, and that for the staff, yesterday noon, in a letter covering minutes of the decision from the mayor.

But The Daily Colonist published the story of the dismissal yesterday morning.

The month's notice is effective from November 1, it was learned.

Mr. Hatcher said defense plans under his guidance will continue until he is through classes for radiation monitoring and medical aspects of first aid were held in the Commodore Street headquarters last night.

One of two members who voted against the dismissal, R. H. B. Sewell, said the board should have had in mind something as "good or better" than existed before taking its action. "For what is being spent not much could be accomplished," he said. "A lot was expected and not much support put in," added the Langford member.

W. B. Cole, View Royal member, declared the situation is "all very regrettable and is just one of those things."

The first public report on the how-up is expected Tuesday evening in Saanich council chambers. C. George Austin, municipal control board member with C. S. W. Brock, said a report is being prepared.

The Chamber of Commerce industrial development group may discuss the civil defense set-up at its annual meeting next week. Chairman Gordon Roper said the group had recommended earlier that Mr. Hatcher attend a defense course in Ottawa on behalf of the group and report on his activity.

Of the whole imbroglio, Mayor Harrison, who is chairman of the civil defense board, has no comment.

WORTHINGTON SURPRISED

Maj.-Gen. Worthington, in Ottawa, expressed surprise Thursday night at the action of the Victoria city council in dismissing its civil defense administration. He obviously had been misinformed of what had taken place here.

He said there had been "no discussion" when he visited Victoria last July.

He declined further comment until he received an official report and "find out what the background is."

Health Minister Martin, under whose department civil defense is administered federally, is in New York attending the United Nations.

"The federal government has approved of the provincial projects," he said, "including Victoria, and we will follow with immediate attention the reaction of the provincial governments in the matter of civil defense."

Mr. Martin said civil defense is a matter that requires the co-operation of all levels of government and of all citizens.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

"In the final analysis, civil defense depends for its successful operation on co-operation—particularly of those citizens on the local level."

"The citizens of Coventry, England, said that in the face of the H-bomb, civil defense was obsolete. Nothing could be further from the truth."

"As Mr. Churchill said, 'Every one, including the citizens of Coventry, must recognize their obligation—as I am sure, on reflection, they will.'"

Mr. Martin said he hopes this also applies to Victoria.

Mooring Buoys Set in Harbor

Two fifth-class mooring buoys have been established in Constance Cove, Esquimalt harbor, Col. Keith Dixon, district marine agent, said yesterday.

Kinsmen crews were presented to the 15 members of the Victoria Kinsmen Club's team in local Little League baseball at a banquet held in the Pacific Club last night.

The youngsters, who lost only one of 28 games this past summer, cheered when coach Wally Stipe announced the Kinsmen will sponsor them again next year.

Fur seals can dive more than 200 feet in their search for food.

Standardization Highways' Aim

Standard highways and a standard method of building them is the aim of engineers in the four Western provinces. B.C.'s chief engineer N. M. McCallum said yesterday.

Mr. McCallum is chairman of the Western Canada Association of Highway Officials which has just concluded its seventh annual conference here in Victoria.

Eventually the association, in co-operation with its Eastern counterpart, hopes to bring about standardization of all the highways in Canada.

Mr. McCallum said that at the present time the Western provinces all use different systems of designating highways, different widths and other specifications, and different methods of construction.

MAIN REASON

He said the main reason for the common goal is for the "benefit of the motoring public." Already the association has brought about fairly complete standardization of road signs.

Continuing committees have been appointed to carry on studies in readiness for next year's meeting.

More than 100 of the best brains in highway departments of B.C., Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan attended the Victoria meeting as well as officials of the federal government's trans-Canada highway program.

Mr. McCallum told the conference that he felt "it is only a matter of time before we have a nation-wide organization that will be a power in the land, an organization that our governments, provincial and federal, can turn to for technical guidance in the immense program of highway construction."

STILL PROBLEMS

Satisfactory service is always the aim of the RCMP in B.C., Assistant Commissioner C. E.

Lure Ships, Merchants Urged

Appearance of the 23,696-ton Australian vessel Orion off Victoria yesterday morning brought a demand that city merchants shake off their "complacency" and do their part in bringing new business to this area.

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, spoke after the Orion and her 900 passengers went directly to Vancouver after clearing customs and quarantine at William Head.

He urged merchants who import large amounts of goods to insist that suppliers ship the items direct to Victoria, or "use another line" if they do not.

This would ensure a minimum cost; provide more jobs for city longshoremen, truck drivers and the like on a year-round basis; bring more tourist business to Victoria, and enable ships to buy catering and other supplies here, the first stop, rather than at Vancouver.

"The more we sit back and allow trade to be siphoned away from us, the less work there will be for Victorians and the less money in merchants' pockets," he said.

Mr. Crombie said there is a definite trend in Victoria "on the part of certain big firms" to channel more goods through Nanaimo, and he urged all merchants to support the chamber request for a direct ferry from Swartz Bay to Greater Victoria.

Kenneth Briggs of King Brothers, shipping agents, conceded that ships would stop here if there was enough cargo, which he thought might be 200 to 300 tons.

But he emphasized that it must pay, to avoid harbor dues, extra pilotage fees and loss of time through the extra stop.

Refit Over For Sioux

HMCS Sioux returned to the Esquimalt Dockyard yesterday after undergoing annual refit at the Victoria Machinery Depot. She will undergo trials in the near future.

PC Unification Bid Falls Flat

Hints of still another split in the divided B.C. Progressive Conservative party appeared yesterday when the latest attempt at unification fell flat.

Deane Finlayson, provincial leader, disclosed that he reached agreement with George Hees, national party president, during recent closed meetings in Vancouver but added that Mr. Hees could not overcome "federal objections" to the understanding.

It was indicated that objections came from only one of the three Conservative MPs in B.C., Howard Green of Vancouver-Quadra, who refused to have anything to do with Mr. Finlayson's provincial association.

Mr. Finlayson would not say what the agreement with Mr. Hees was, except to state that they agreed to work jointly toward a united party in the province.

He also declined to elaborate on the federal objections and said he will "talk to anybody who will recognize that the will of the majority should prevail."

The B.C. leader said Mr. Hees' week-long visit to B.C. "altered nothing."

He said Mr. Hees was committed to set up new federal groups by taking over existing federal associations or forming new ones, but the national president "learned that the plan was unacceptable to the majority of Conservatives... because it would obviously lead to further strife and discord."

Mr. Finlayson arranged two meetings with Mr. Hees, at which "we arrived at an understanding to lead to a solution," but the efforts failed.

The B.C. leader said he is prepared to work toward any "reasonable" federal proposal which will lead toward restoration of the party to the hands of the membership in B.C.

Anti-Drew Forces Urge Wider Fight

The Progressive Conservative Association of B.C. has been urged to take its fight against federal leader George Drew across Canada.

The Comox-Alberni federal party association has asked the association to draw up a report of the quarrel and "send it to every newspaper in Canada and to the provincial Conservative headquarters in every province."

The Island association deplored the "irresponsible" action of the three Conservative MPs in this province in setting up "unconstitutional" new federal groups, and decided to stay in the B.C. association.

C. S. Reid of Alberni was elected association president.

Onion Ropes
Best Storage

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRBS

Storing the onion crop has always been a bit of a problem with me. You can't just throw them in a pile in the corner of the basement, or even in a bin—they have to be in something, and hung up, where they will be perfectly dry. I used to be able to chisel enough of those onion sacks made of netting from my grocer, but when he found out I was using his free gifts as a means of avoiding the purchase of his wares, the source dried up.

I found a solution to the problem in a little Italian food shop on the San Francisco waterfront. The smells in that dark little store were entrancing—a blend of dried herbs, Parmesan cheese, Genoa salami and peppers, all overlaid with the pungent odor of great ropes of dried onions hanging from the ceiling. I had a good look at one of these ropes, and when he saw my interest, the proprietor, who was truly one of Nature's gentlemen, took one apart for me to show me the method of roping. I have used his system ever since.

FOUR-FOOT ROPE

Pieces of hemp clothes line about four feet long are used. You put a good knot in the lower end, and whip the upper end into a loop and hang it on a nail or hook in the rafters. The dried foliage is left on the onions to provide the ties.

You start at the bottom of the rope, holding the knot with the left hand. Hold the tip of the onion top against the rope with the left thumb and twist it around the rope so that the weight of the onion hanging down will bind the tie. Do the next onion in the opposite direction, and hook the second onion over the first so that neither can untwist. Go right up the rope in this way, alternating the direction in which the onion tops are twisted around the rope, and all of them will stay secure.

TAKE TWO

In removing onions from the rope for use in the kitchen, start at the top and take them off in twos. If you remove a single onion, the second one will untwist and fall, but the remainder will remain secure.

Small onions can be bunched and tied on to the rope, while specimens with only stubby tops may be lashed on with a length of twine.

Suspended freely from the rafters, with lots of fresh air circulating around them and all the warmth which gathers close to the ceiling, the onions remain hard and free from rot and mildew throughout the winter.

If you have parsnips in your garden, don't harvest any more of them than you need for a single meal. They store better in the ground than anywhere else, and they won't develop their full, sweet flavor until they have been touched with frost.

'Bread Out of Others' Mouths'

Labor Men Hit Job-Doubling

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council wants something done to stop union men from "scabbing."

Delegates to a council meeting Wednesday night noted with regret that some Victoria unionists have been cutting in on members of other unions—carpenters doing a little plumbing on the side, or bus drivers doing electrical work.

Not only trade unionists are at fault, they said. Service men and government employees have been taking part-time jobs to plump out their incomes.

The council will put a resolution before a convention of the B.C. Trades Union Congress, October 13, asking the congress to condemn this practice and to urge government, industry and unions to try to stamp it out.

Several council delegates, cited examples of Victoria workers "taking the bread out of other men's mouths" by holding two jobs.

A carpenters' delegate said his union last spring picketed post office employees who were doing part-time carpentry work.

Surveyor Hikes Out
On Fractured Ankle

KITIMAT, B.C. (BUP)—A surveyor who broke an ankle in a fall down a mountain side, walked out of the bush to safety near here late Wednesday on a pair of makeshift crutches he had used for three days.

Leon Kirstein "disappeared" on a hike Sunday and a 40-man search party had been formed and a helicopter brought in to scan the rugged wilderness near this northern industrial centre.

Kirstein said his fall from the small mountain was broken by a tree, and he managed to lower himself to the ground. It took him three days to crawl and stumble 3½ miles through the bush to where he was found.

The aluminum company surveyor had no matches to light a fire or attract the attention of search parties, and to combat the effects of exposure he moved around most of the time.

Doctors at Kitimat Hospital said Kirstein owed his life to his expert knowledge of the bush.

The shell contained the body of a man, a corpse!

Paul fiercely shook his captive. "Talk! What is it? What does it mean?"

The man whimpered, "You won't kill me!"

"Not if you talk—fast!"

The dull-eyed man pointed at the human-sized figures. "The Doc brings the dead guys here in them. He kept them down at a garage in town, but a cop started snooping around."

Paul gave a start. The cop—and what Mike had said about seeing his father in the neighborhood of the garage where this truck had been seen. His father must have learned something.

His captive went on: "Doc claims the bodies of paupers. He brings them up here. Some day, he says, he's going to be able to bring people back to life. He's going to be able to fix brains like his brother, Lou, had."

To Be Concluded.

YOU CAN'T
BURN ME

BY WILLIAM G. BOGART

Copyright, 1954, William G. Bogart. Illustrations copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Something about the closing of that door touched a spring inside Paul. That feeling was suddenly with him again, that strange, inexplicable something that always came to him when his twin sister, Lee, was in danger. He felt it now more than he ever had in his life.

Forgetting about the lamp, he raced down the stairs, found himself in a narrow, stone-walled hallway. There were several doors, all closed. He tried one. It was locked.

"Lee!" he called.

No answer. He tried the other doors. They, too, were locked. He covered the length of the hallway, heard no slightest sound.

Then he became aware of a sound penetrating down here from somewhere outside the house. He leaped back up the stairs, ran through the hall, reached the front porch. His car was gone!

But the truck was there, the truck that had almost run him down in the night. A squat, dull-eyed man was at the wheel, guiding the heavy truck toward the mountain road. He saw Paul, looked frightened, stepped on the gas. Startled, Paul yelled at the driver. The man did not answer, but headed toward the steep decline.

Paul remembered the gun that he still carried in his coat pocket, the gun that Mike had lent him. He took careful aim at one of the front tires, fired. He heard the small explosion of the tire bursting.

The truck lurched to the left. It was now apparently beyond the control of the driver and went over the side of the road, down a small gully, tipped over and landed on its side.

Paul leaped after it, at the same time noting the rear tail-gates had slammed open, spilling out the weird assortment of lifelike, sculptured figures. But he was thinking of the driver.

The man was just crawling from the wreck as Paul raced up. His face had been cut by flying glass. There seemed to be something wrong with his right arm.

Paul helped the man to his feet. He appeared not to be seriously injured, but, in his slow-thinking way, he was terrified.

Adenauer Wins Full Support

Germany Supports Alliance With West

Bid by Molotov Quickly Rejected

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has won overwhelming parliamentary support for his policy of bringing a rearmied West Germany into the Western alliance.

In an uncounted show of hands the majority of the Bundestag Lower House Thursday night accepted the London agreement to allow Bonn to raise 12 divisions and an air force as members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It amounted to a vote of confidence for Adenauer's policy and was a swift answer to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's latest bid, made in East Berlin Wednesday night, to block West German rearmament by dangling new hopes of German reunification.

The West German Socialists, who have 151 seats in the 487-member chamber, voted against the motion.

A Socialist counter-motion calling for another try for a settlement with the Russians before committing the western half of Germany to the Allied alliance was shunted aside into the oblivion of committee study.

The vote came after more than 11 hours of debate on the chancellor's report on the results of the London conference.

Political leaders in France and Britain also refused to be diverted from their plans for Germany by Molotov's bid for another four-power conference. His offer to talk over ways to reunify divided Germany through free elections and withdraw all occupation troops was received with considerable skepticism. Molotov spoke during a surprise visit to East Berlin, ostensibly to join ceremonies marking the fifth anniversary of the East German state.

Foreign Secretary Eden spurned the Soviet proposal, saying that the Russian aim was still Communist domination of Germany. He told the Conservative conference at "Blackpool."

"They, the Russians, have made every effort to draw Germany to their side and to prevent us from drawing Germany to ours. They have created German armed forces in their sector long ago. They have consistently refused to agree to Germany being reunited, except on terms which would result in the Communist minority being given the power to subvert the whole state."

Adenauer said German unity was only part of the great field of tension. In the London conference he had received assurance of Western support for the achievement of unity—a matter he said was always near his heart.

Chief Scientist

DR. O. M. SOLANDT

Solandt To Open New Lab

Canada's top military scientist and chairman of the Defense Research Board, Dr. O. M. Solandt, arrived in Victoria last night.

He will officiate at 2:30 p.m. today at the opening of the new Pacific Naval Laboratory building, Esquimalt, after which he will address cadets at Royal Roads.

Dr. Solandt has been chairman of the DRB since it was organized in 1946 and is scientific member of the chiefs of staff committee.

In 1945 he was sent to evaluate the effects of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In 1952 he observed the British atomic tests in Australia.

From his observations he reported radiation effect of atomic bombs much over-rated.

Brig. R. C. Moncel, deputy chief of general staff of the army, also arrived in Victoria last night to attend the opening of the new laboratory. Air Commodore W. A. Orr, commander of 12 Area Air Defense Group, will represent the RCAF at the ceremony. Also in attendance will be Lieut.-Col. D. A. Kellough, acting commander of the B.C. Area of the army.

Red Intervention Doomed

Chiang Confident China Will Arise

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek said Thursday his armies could whip Russia if it intervened in any Nationalist invasion of Red China because the Chinese people would rise and fight the Soviets.

In an exclusive interview, the generalissimo predicted the same fate would await Russia as overtook Japan—a whole people rising in wrath against the foreigners.

It was noted that N. S. Krushchev, secretary of the central committee of the Soviet Communist party, was reported to have given assurances in Peking last week that Russia would support plans for an attack on Formosa.

WHAT THEN?

"If you counter-attack the mainland and Russia intervenes, what then?" the generalissimo was asked.

"The Soviet Union," Chiang replied, "began 30 years ago the process of training and equipping the Chinese Communists so that they could carry out, by proxy, Russia's conquest of the mainland."

"Today, the mainland might appear to some people to be under the Chinese Communist party but it actually is under control of Soviet Russia."

Chiang then recalled that the Japanese militarists before 1937 concealed themselves behind the cloak of the northern Chinese warlords in encroaching on Chinese soil. When the Japanese came out in the open in 1937, the people rose and fought the invaders.

HIDING CONTROL

"The Soviet Union," Chiang continued, "is still hiding behind the scenes its control of the Chinese Communist party and by these tactics has deceived many people, both in the mainland and in other countries. If the Soviet Union in the future comes out into the open, mobilizes troops, and fights without Nationalist army on the mainland, the whole Chinese people will rise up and fight against the Russians. Russia could never conquer us in a fight on Chinese soil."

Chiang was confident his forces would triumph once they attacked the mainland.

Comic Book Sirens Get Dior Treatment

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—The new "czar" of the comic book industry said Thursday that women characters in the books will "get the Dior treatment" to flatten their bosoms under the code he is drawing up.

Former New York Magistrate Charles F. Murphy, who took over as the "Judge Landis" of the comic magazine industry less than a week ago, said he hopes to have a code for the guidance of the publishers by October 15.

Chest Has 700 Now

Volunteers Needed For Home Canvass

A call for canvassers for the residential drive which starts Monday was issued last night as the Greater Victoria Community Chest campaign hit $22,180 in its fourth day.

Goal of the 19-day drive is $203,000.

Officials said 700 persons have volunteered their services for the residential drive, biggest and most complicated of the campaign sections, and 100 more are needed in Victoria West, Victoria North and the central and northern parts of the Saanich Peninsula.

Anyone can be a canvasser and volunteers are requested to telephone 23143 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. today or Tuesday, or between 2 a.m. and noon Saturday.

As the total of donations went to $22,180, Chest officials said they were "very optimistic."

MORE PLEDGES

They pointed out that more time and care is being given to pledge canvassing than before and said this method of giving is continuing to grow in popularity.

Early returns from the industrial-commercial canvass, under way since Monday, show that participation through payroll deduction is also increasing satisfactorily, they said.

An industrial-commercial canvasser presented proof yesterday that those who are helped by the Community Chest help the campaign themselves.

The canvasser was visiting

businesses in a downtown block when he entered a recreation centre for elderly people, thinking it, too, was a business office. Four gentlemen at the centre, which receives a small amount from the Chest each year, donated $8 to the campaign before the canvasser could go on his way.

Widow Found Injured

Injured in a fall in her home, an 82-year-old Oak Bay widow is believed to have lain unattended for two days before taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital by police last night.

She was Mrs. J. Miller, 1049 Monterey.

The old woman, who lives alone, was found lying on the floor by a doctor and Oak Bay police who were summoned after a neighbor became apprehensive.

She was reported in good condition last night by hospital authorities.

Admirals Inspect Cadets

It was a proud day for 162 cadets of HMCS Venture yesterday when five admirals, including Vice-Admiral E. Rollo Mainguy, chief of naval staff, inspected divisions at the navy's new officer training centre.

Other admirals attending the official opening of HMCS Venture were Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Flag Officer Pacific Coast; Vice-Admiral H. E. Reid (retired); Rear Admiral V. G. Brodeur (retired); and Rear Admiral W. B. Creery (retired).

After only three weeks of training the cadets performed smartly on the parade square and were a credit to Venture skipper, Captain R. P. Welland and his officers and instructors.

"The whole navy is watching you," Admiral Mainguy told the keen ship's company. "The RCN needs officers."

MUST HAVE VALUE

But he warned them that the production of an officer "is tremendously expensive nowadays." He said: "We must have value for our money. If a cadet can't make the grade he will not stay here."

Cadet Gilmour Morrison, 18, of Amherstburg, Ontario, thought he was going to miss yesterday's parade, but he was one of the proudest cadets when Admiral Mainguy stopped to say a few words to him.

On his third parade Cadet Morrison fell and broke his jaw. He was released from navy hospital yesterday morning but didn't have a uniform. His division mates scraped up a uniform from their extra clothing and he was able to stand on the parade square for divisions.

SPECIAL PRIDE

Admiral Hibbard had a special pride in Venture when he accompanied the navy chief on the inspection. His 19-year-old son, Dick, was one of the cadets, but there are no special favors for an admiral's son.

Young Hibbard has moved out of the Admiral's House at the Dockyard and into the cadet quarters at Venture as just another of the 162 cadets.

Signed by Metropolitan

Marian Anderson Gets Opera Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera said Thursday Marian Anderson, famous American Negro contralto, has been signed to sing in an opera this winter, the first Negro singer ever to appear with a Metropolitan cast.

Rudolf Bing, Metropolitan general manager, said Miss Anderson will sing the role of "Ulrica," a Negro fortune teller, in Verdi's "The Masked Ball" early in January.

"I'm very happy," said Miss Anderson. It will be her first operatic role here or anywhere.

Miss Anderson, whose voice has been acclaimed throughout

North America and Europe, once was a cause celebre when the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1939 refused her the use of Constitution Hall on grounds that "all dates were taken."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt resigned from the DAR as a result. Subsequently Miss Anderson sang at an open-air Easter concert at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., to an audience of 75,000.

Reuther Offers To Join Strike-Aversion Parley

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The

United Automobile Workers Union (CIO-CCL) Thursday offered to join talks with the Ford Motor Company of Canada, under the guidance of Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley, to try to avert a strike set for 10 p.m. EST Sunday at the large Ford Windsor plant.

Walter P. Reuther, international president of the UAW, said he would join the talks if Rhys M. Sale, Ford president, would also take part.

Ford officials made no comment on Mr. Reuther's proposal, but they said Wednesday the company's regular negotiating team, headed by Wallace H. Clark, vice president, industrial relations, would attend last-minute meetings today.

Mr. Reuther had offered to enter the picture earlier this week, on the invitation of Mayor Arthur Reaume. At that time, Mr. Sale refused to meet with him.

Labor Minister Daley will step into the tense labor dispute with Louis Fine, chief conciliations officer, to try to bring a peaceful settlement to the nine-month-old dispute.

Three Long-Sought Links Ready in Three Years

Leaders of Fight for Roads Beam at News of Projects

Victoria men who helped lead the long fight for important new roads on Vancouver Island beamed yesterday over the news that three of the roads will likely be completed in three years, with the fourth coming as soon as possible.

Major H. C. Holmes, long-time champion of road expansion on the island, called the road plan a "good business proposition and a shrewd government move which will mean a tremendous step forward in Island development."

Roads linking Jordan River and Port Renfrew, and Alberni and Tofino-Ucluelet will be completed within two years by the government and three logging companies. Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers said Wednesday.

However, British Columbia Forest Products Ltd., which plans to start construction of a pulp mill, must first win approval of a forest management license.

Another road built by the government, the Elk River

Timber Co. and the Tahsis Company will link Campbell River and Metchosin in two years, but a road connecting Port Renfrew to either Shawnigan Lake or Cowichan Lake will take longer to plan and construct.

Major Holmes said the roads will mean a "very rapid and great growth for Vancouver Island and great profit for the provincial economy—not a subsidy plan but a good business proposition."

He was surprised at news of the Campbell River-Muchalat road, saying Island Chambers of Commerce had not asked for it repeatedly, because "we didn't think we would get it."

He added he has found similar logging roads to have good grades and good width.

W. C. Mearns, chairman of the Victoria chamber's roads committee, praised the government for "getting the most possible" and "showing a lot of leadership."

He felt the pulp mill would benefit all of B.C. and the loop road through Cowichan Lake or Shawnigan Lake would cause many tourists to remain in the southern island for longer than at present.

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager of the Victoria chamber, declared the road plan would mean "very rapid growth" for Duncan, Shawnigan Lake and similar centres.

He pointed out that opening of the Tofino road will give Victoria salesmen a "big edge" over their counterparts from Vancouver, since the local men will be able to visit the West Coast communities more easily.

Major Holmes said, "We'll go after airports next—the first one somewhere in Greater Victoria, but we haven't any plans yet."

Construction of the roads was hailed by most civic authorities as "a step in the right direction."

At the same time, officials explained that it was difficult if not impossible to comment on the forest management

More Gold Braid Than Meets the Eye

Gold braid weighed heavily at HMC Dockyard yesterday for the official opening of the navy's new Venture officer-entry school. These five admirals headed a group of more than 30 officers who attended the ceremonies. Left to right are Rear Admiral J. C.

Hibbard, Flag Officer Pacific Coast; Rear Admiral Victor G. Brodeur (retired); Vice Admiral H. E. Reid (retired); Vice Admiral E. Rollo Mainguy, Chief of Naval Staff, and Rear Admiral W. B. Creery (retired).

Adenauer Wins Full Support

Germany Supports Alliance With West

Bid by Molotov Quickly Rejected

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has won overwhelming parliamentary support for his policy of bringing a rearmied West Germany into the Western alliance.

In an uncounted show of hands the majority of the Bundestag Lower House Thursday night accepted the London agreement to allow Bonn to raise 12 divisions and an air force as members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It amounted to a vote of confidence for Adenauer's policy and was a swift answer to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's latest bid, made in East Berlin Wednesday night, to block West German rearmament by dangling new hopes of German reunification.

The West German Socialists, who have 151 seats in the 487-member chamber, voted against the motion.

French Approval Likely for Pact

Resignation, Not Enthusiasm

PARIS (Reuters)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France seemed assured of the French Assembly's approval of his policy to rearm West Germany Thursday night.

He outlined to the assembly the plan to bring a sovereign, independent Germany into the Brussels and Atlantic defense pacts. Afterwards, political observers predicted the House would back him to the hilt in the showdown vote on the rearmament issue, due within the next 24 hours.

The mood of the assembly was one of resignation rather than enthusiasm, as Mendes-France recalled the assembly's rejection of the original European Defense Community six weeks ago and traced the negotiations in London which produced the new formula for rearmament.

The majority of deputies outside the Communist party seemed convinced they must ratify the London agreement to prevent France from being squeezed out of the Western defense network.

Opening the debate, which will end in rejection or approval of the plan to rearm West Germany, Mendes-France avoided taking any credit for the London settlement but applauded Britain for deciding to commit troops to the Continent for the remainder of this century.

He said the chief reason EDC failed was that it contained too large a dose of supranationalism and that Britain was not a member.

One of the major results of the London conference, he said, was that France obtained a right to veto any increase in West German forces above the initial level agreed to, as well as a new safeguard against the revival of German militarism.

Mendes-France said that having obtained satisfactory guarantees and assurances about German rearmament, there is no further objection from the French point of view to Germany's entry into NATO.

Soviet Diesel Planes May Be Scouting U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—American Aviation Magazine said Thursday Russian diesel-engined airplanes may be flying over the United States to pinpoint targets for future A-bomb attacks.

The industry publication reported that Russia has developed reconnaissance aircraft "capable of flying over Alaska and even reaching San Francisco."

"Some intelligence reports suggest that they may have already done so," the magazine said.

COPY GERMANSA staff member added, in reply to a question, that presumably Russia would turn to Diesel aircraft engines, as the Germans did in the Second World War, to achieve the long range which the United States has obtained through aerial refueling and the use of a big aircraft such as the B-36.

Citing "sources in touch with developments inside the Soviet Union," the American Aviation article said the reconnaissance craft are modified bombers—the Tupolev TU-4, which is a Russian copy of the American B-29, and the Miassischev MI-13RD.

The magazine said the Russian air force now has five long-range reconnaissance squadrons, each with 10 planes, including two refueling tankers.
